A Note From the President's Desk:

Hello Council Members,

I hope 2025 is off to a great start and that you are taking advantage of the opportunity to square up often and connect with friends new and old.

It is terrific that the clubs in the Southeast Council are working to grow their membership. The Maverick Monarchs, Pepper Steppers, and Waggin Wheelers all started classes in January. Efforts to publicize lessons included printed flyers, newspaper advertising, notices posted to a variety of on-line and social media outlets, and yard signs.

The Monarch Mavericks were thrilled that their multiple outreach efforts resulted in 35 potential dancers showing up for their Open Community Dance. Classes started the following Thursday where 27 individuals made an appearance. Eighteen paid for lessons that night and several more joined the next week. A record breaker for the Monarchs.

The Pepper Steppers started their class with more than 18 new dancers, including several teens. Publicity for lessons was mainly by word of mouth. Their previous class included several youth who recruited their friends for this class. Pepper Stepper members also recruited new dancers and offered a ride to prospective dancers.

Waggin' Wheelers showed up in force and provided lots of good food for noshing during their open house. Twenty-eight new dancers attended and 22 returned for the first class. Always innovative in their outreach efforts, Jeff Palmer called while Chris and Julie Schlumpf and Lisa and Walt Bub demonstrated some moves on a local TV morning show. Club members put signs in their front yard on the weekends advertising the class. The club also placed an enhanced ad on the Gazette calendar, a local newspaper.

In an effort to provide some financial assistance for SEASDC clubs, the planning committee of the 2024 Colorado State Festival, led by Ken Tucker, SEASDC President, coordinated a silent auction of handmade goods.

Behind the Mic with Hal Barnes: Some Thoughts on Maintaining Club Dancing Competence

The Problem

All clubs advertise their dance program: SSD, Mainstream (MS), Plus. Yet the actual dance ability is frequently significantly lower than the advertised program. This mismatch is a problem for both the callers and the dancers. The caller is not confident of which calls will cause breakdowns and the dancers hear calls they cannot dance. This article looks at the causes and possible solutions for this problem.

When a club has a regular club caller, that caller has the responsibility of maintaining the dancing competence. However, leaders of clubs which have predominantly guest callers may not realize that the responsibility of maintaining the dancing capability now falls to them. If no one is responsible, then the trend of lower dance competence is predictable.

Many clubs frequently hire guest callers. The art of being a good guest caller is to find the actual dance ability of the group and call a fun dance at that level. It is not the job of the guest caller to fix dancer problems or maintain the dance ability of the club. Guest callers try to determine the dance level without breaking down the squares. On the other hand, good callers want to expose the dancers to all the calls in a given program to provide a varied, entertaining dancing experience. Finding that balance is the art of being a good guest caller.

SPIN CHAIN THRU is a "poster child" of the problem

identified above. It is on the MS program but rarely, if ever, called at a MS dance because callers know there is a high risk of losing squares. PLUS callers tend to ignore it because it is a MS call and SPIN CHAIN & EXCHANGE THE GEARS is so much more popular. As a result, SPIN CHAIN THRU tends to be a major problem for both MS and Plus dancers due to lack of exposure.

Recently graduated classes can heighten this issue. With pressure to get them into the club too quickly, the class members rarely have enough floor time after being exposed to the calls to smooth out the rough edges and dance the calls properly. The club level drops a little to accommodate them and frequently there is no mechanism in place to bring it back up.

To be clear – we are not blaming the clubs and dancers for this problem. The callers and dancers combine to create a "spiral of death" for many calls. Here is how this happens. Consider the SPIN CHAIN THRU problem. Callers don't call it because they are afraid the dancers will break down.

Dancers can't dance it because callers never call it, so they get no practice doing it. This results in SPIN CHAIN THRU rarely being called. The impact of this "call self-censoring" is that callers are not using a significant part of a dance program. The end result is less variety and less interesting dancing. This practice is on full display at festivals where callers cannot take any risks. We get fast, high energy, highly repetitious, low variety dancing.

Some Suggested Solutions

A workshop tip is the opposite of a guest caller tip. The guest caller tries to avoid problem calls and focus on those calls where the dancers are

The Rest of the Story

Empower the guest callers – clubs can tell the guest callers that it is OK to do a quick walk through once or twice in a dance if they see general problem areas. This will not happen unless the club empowers the caller to do it. It will slowly improve the dance ability without turning the dance into a workshop.

Floor time for new class – After all the calls have been taught, class should have at least three dances for more floor time which provides more exposure and practice for problem calls. This is a great opportunity to encourage current club members to join the class. Some clubs advertise these final workshop dances to the public. There are two great advantages to this approach: improved dancing ability and better social integration between class and club.

Special workshop dance – When possible, have a special workshop dance on an off week to help improve the dancing level. Invite a popular caller and open it to the public.

Have a dedicated workshop tip – Some clubs on the East coast dedicate the second tip as a workshop tip to help improve the club dance level. Some clubs have a half-hour workshop before the dance. This is quite effective in raising the club dance ability over time provided the dancers support the workshop. Pikes Peak Plus in Colorado Springs has used this approach over a period of years to quietly raise the level without much fanfare. These solutions don't happen by themselves. They are the result of clubs developing a strategy and working with callers to maintain and improve the dancing competence for the advertised program. If your club has mainly guest callers, what is your plan for dance competence?

The Council voted to direct auction proceeds to a dedicated Promotions and Education fund. The auction raised nearly $1,000 that is now available to Southeast area clubs through our Grant program.

An application and details about how to apply for grant funding has been shared with club Presidents. Clubs are welcome to apply for reimbursement of up to $200 for expenses incurred for classes taking place in 2025.

I urge clubs to share their experience in preparing for their current class. Talk about advertising, demo dances, print advertising, social media, and other efforts they undertook to enlist new dancers. By learning from each other's successes and nice try's, we can all benefit and help grow square dancing.

It's great to see young people take up square dancing. Pepper Stepper youth recruited their friends to join in the fun.

See you across the square.

HELP! Volunteers Needed

Thanks to Sarah Lang, who recently agreed to become secretary, we currently have only one position unfilled on the Southeast Area Square Dance Council. We are looking for an individual who can spare a little time to help the square dance community by serving as Vice-President. The job probably isn't as onerous as you might think. The Council meets four (4) times a year, always before one of our clubs dances, so following the meeting, we get to square up. That alone is a reason to volunteer!

Major responsibilities of the Vice-President includes presiding at Council meetings in the absence or incapacity of the President, keeping the Council Banner and flag, and coordinating the Tumbleweed Jamboree working with the host club to make dance arrangements.

I've been working with the Council for a little over a year now and I can tell you, they're a great bunch to work with. Our aim is to provide additional resources and information to support our member clubs, to help them grow and to improve square dancing. If you have questions about volunteering for the Council, please reach out to any Council member. If you are ready to volunteer, please reach out to me at 480-259-8036.

Hope to hear from you! Call or text any of us.

SEASDC Guiding Documents Being Updated

After 2024 Council elections, the Southeast Area Square Dance Council had a completely new Board of Directors, with one exception. Many of the officers were fairly new dancers and none had served on the Council in the past. They noted that the SEASDC Constitution and By-Laws had not been updated in many years and found that much of the information was duplicated, outdated, or incorrect.

The Council has been working to make significant changes to the Constitution and by-laws, simplifying and clarifying language.

The revised documents have been sent to member Clubs for review and approval. Questions and suggestions are of course welcome.

In addition, the Council has created an Operational Manual that contains details on things not included in the Constitution and By Laws. Things like planning the State Festival, Southeast Swing, and Tumbleweeds Jamboree. Processes on website maintenance, publishing The Bulletin, annual audits, award programs, and other important information will be included. This document should provide significant assistance to future volunteers.

Attracting New Square Dancers

Attracting New Square Dancers: Lessons Learned

by Ken Tucker, President Monarch Mavericks

The Maverick Monarchs kicked off square dance lessons on January 16 for the first time in three (3) years. We had hoped to have a class in 2023, but turnout did not warrant a class, so we decided to skip 2023 and regroup for 2024. We learned from other clubs what worked and what didn't. Based on their experience, we focused on social media and printed flyers to blanket nearby communities with information about our Open Community Dance on January 11.

We put flyers up at businesses and community gathering places, took out ads on Facebook, posted information on numerous community accounts, and paid for six (6) weeks of ads in the Mountain Mail where we took advantage of SEASDC's 501(c)(3) certification to receive a discounted rate.

Dancers also met with newspaper staff who published an article on our upcoming class. Marketing efforts started in November and continued right up until our 'try it – you'll like it' dance.

Our efforts paid off! Thirty-five potential new dancers showed up for our community dance - a record breaker for the Monarchs. Lessons started the following Thursday and out of the 35 who originally showed up, 27 new dancers came to the first lesson (which was free) to try their hand at squaring up. We asked folks to tell us where they heard about the dance and were pleased to learn that each of our advertising venues was successful.

Dancers throughout the Southeast Council enjoyed the challenge of Eric Henerlau's Super Plus Weekend in Albuquerque. Show here, they're all dolled up for the Valentine's Day dance. Reports say the Weekend was tons of fun with mind-blowing work.

The Promenaders are Back

Royal Gorge Promenaders Social Square Dance Club is Back!

by Susan Levy, RGP President

The NEW Royal Gorge Promenaders Social Square Dance Club is now officially a part of the Southeast Area Square Dance Council. A group of dancers completed lessons in August and the club held its first dance on Wednesday, August 14th, 2024 with Hal Barnes as caller and a theme of: First Time. The first dance was a great success! With loving support from the Waggin' Wheelers, Pueblo Pepper Steppers, Monarch Mavericks, and many wonderful individuals, we had a fabulous inaugural dance with five squares of invigorated dancers. The original Royal Gorge Promenaders Square Dance Club existed for several decades and club officers are working to learn more about their history and heritage.

Over the past few months, the club has continued to host their dances and work to grow their membership. We are happy to report that we currently have 24 members and would love to have more! These members were all registered in one evening at our Sweetheart Dance on February 12, 2025! Each member received a cute gift bag with a Royal Gorge Promenaders pocket-sized notepad, a honey stick, a snack baggie of healthy, crunchy munchies and sweet treats, and even a fortune cookie. All to show the club's love and appreciation to our new members. Additional new members joining at our March and April dances will be shown the same love as well!

We dance on the second Wednesday of each month from 6:30 PM to 9:00 with Plus at 6:30 and SSD starting at 7:00. We will be kicking off our next class with a free introductory dance beginning on March 31st. SSD classes will be held every Monday for 14 weeks, beginning April 7th through July 14th. Hal Barnes is the instructor.

Some Pepper Stepper History According to Barbara McPhaul

Did you know ...

Square dancing developed long ago from a mix of English country dances and African American social dances. The typical formation is four couples in the shape of a square. However, all along the Appalachian Mountains it became popular to run square dance steps in large circle dances using as many couples as can fit on the floor. The Circle Dance often uses moves like the Right and Left Grand to continually have a dancer switch partners.

This gives everyone a chance to dance with everyone and often breaks the ice for folks a little nervous about meeting others and asking them to dance.

Club Updates – The Monarch Mavericks are holding an open community dance on January 11, with classes starting on the 16th. Pikes Peak Plus has 20 members and recently held elections. Pueblo Pepper Steppers start lessons on January 16 and hope to have more than two (2) squares of new dancers. Waggin Wheelers did a dance demo on Fox 21. They have an Open House, with a pot luck, scheduled for the 14th. Large signs containing a phone number for those interested in lessons were utilized. They were not as successful as hoped. Ken has notified clubs in Arizona and South Texas.

ACTION: All Council members should promote Southeast Swing.

ACTION: Sheila send email invite to all State Festival attendees, as well as to surrounding states dance organizations.

Leadership Program – Mike suggested the Council develop a leadership program to get new volunteers. Ken believes CSSDA may have materials available that would be helpful in such a program. Larylee suggested a mentorship program be developed.

ACTION: Ken research leadership materials available from CSSDA.
